

An aerial photograph of the Tulum archaeological site. In the foreground, the dark, weathered stone ruins of a Mayan building with several rectangular openings are visible. Above the ruins, a lush green island or peninsula is covered in dense tropical vegetation. The island is bordered by a white sandy beach and the turquoise waters of the Caribbean Sea. White waves are breaking against the shore, creating a frothy white line. The sky is a deep, hazy blue with some light clouds. The overall tone is warm and atmospheric, with a mix of natural and historical elements.
